THOUGH an empty honor, the Republican nomination of United States Senator was not obtained by Judge Buxton without a struggle. Keogh, the "handsome blonde," was a formidable rival. What defeated the "Greense boro Ring" was the determination of such native Republicans as Everett to make "politics a grand conflict between brains and principles." Everett is a young man and is, perhaps the least visionary. Tom Keogh, he must know, holds the purse strings, and a Republican campaign without Keogh would be quite stale. How Republiscan politics is to be made a "grand conflict between brains and principles" is not very clear.

A reporter of the St. Louis Post and) spatch called upon Senator Bayard list week while the Senator was passing through that city on his way to Texas as one of the Congressional committee appointed to accompany the funeral cortege of the late Representative Schleicher.

Here is what Senator Bayard did or did not say to the reporter:
"Senator Bayard, what do think of the prospect of General Grant being the nominee of the Republican party in 1880?" was the querry. "It would seem at present that he was the choice of the Republican party, that is, the choice of its managers. It is very discreditable that such a system of advertising should be resorted to by the followers of General Grant. as it he was some kind of merchandise. It is such an undignified way to bring By Cable to the News.

"Then the talk about his restoring specie payments. The fact is during the eight years of his administration he did more to render resumption difficult of accomplishment, or impossible, than he did to bring it about. It was during his administration that the demand notes of the Treasury were increased by reissue after cancellation, from $356,000,000 to $378,000,000, and that without any legal right.

"I regret to see the movement or foot, for to me it signifies that the parties who prepare it are practically admitting that our popular form of government is a failure.

"The principle laid down by the founders of this Government, claiming that the people shall rule themselves. is to be substituted by one new and foreign to the genius of our institutions -that the ruling power shall be from without, and not, as was intended, from within-that is, to substitute an involuntary for a voluntary system. His nomination would only be the signal for renewed confusion and trouble throughout the country. In the Washington Post to the effect that him, and the people everywhere know his policy and ideas of administration, missed themfrom his desk; he said if he for they have tried him for two terms, made a statement such as that he must and know to what desperate straits he have been drunk or insane. [Laughhas brought our affairs already. I ter]. On the contrary what he did say believe that there was more peace and was to show the impossibility that the barmony throughout the country when | despatches p. inted in the Tr. bune came Andrew Johnson went out of office than when General Grant retired from the Presidential chair, and this agitating of the question is only having a tendency to unsettle the business of the country. I understand from one of the morning papers," added the Senator with a smile, "that there is a queer story of trying to make him United States Senator from Illinois. "But then it is impossible to say what the feeling will be in 1880. There is a long time yet to pass before any Presidential nominations are made, and before then public opinion may fluctuate greatly both as to men and Gospel Advocate. We republish the following because the experiment may be safely tried, and it is worth trying. - Diphtheria is becoming a fearful scourge, and the writer of what is here said saw the working of this cure in the hands of an English physician, at a time when the disease was prevalent in an English town. Speaking of the physician's application, the writer says:

All he took with him was powder of sulphur and a quill, and with these he cured every case without exception. He put a teaspoonful of the flour of brimstone into a wineglass of water, and stirred it with his finger instead of a spoon, as the su'phur does not readily amalgamate with water. When the sulphur was well mixed he gave it as a gargle, and in ten minutes the patient was out of danger! Brimstone kills every species of fungus in man, beast or plant in a few minutes. Instead of spitting out the gargle, he recommends the swallowing of it. In extreme cases in which he he had been called just in the nick of time, when the fungus was too nearly closed to allow the gargle, he blew the sulphur through a quill into the throat, and, after the fungus had shrank to allow of it, then the gargling. He never lost a patient from diphtheria. If a patient cannot gargle, take a live coal put it in a shovel and sprinkle a spoonful or two of flour of brimstone at a time upon it; let the suffer inhale it. holding the head over it, and the fungus will die. If plentifully used, the whole room may be filled almost to suffocation, and the patient can walk about in it, inhaling the fumes with doors and windows shut. The plan of fumigating a room with sulphur has the 2d to the 7th of April, inclusiveoften cured most violent attacks of cold in the head and chest."

The above cure for diphtheria, which has already been published in the NEWs, should not be relied upon for any longer time than proper medical assistance can be procured. There is no doubt, however, of the excellence of sulphur for canker in the throat. 1

Ice and Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A Lloyds' dispatch from Antwerp, dated yesterday, says: The ice in the roads and river has considerably increased since yesterday. A boat coming in was capsized and eight men drowned. A disp tch to Lloyds from H-ligoland, dated today, says the Elbe is blocked with ice and steamers are unable to force an entrance. The captain of a ship recently arrived at Queenstown, writes to Lloyds that he saw, fifty miles west of Fastnet, on the 16th inst., a steamer alongside of a burning wreek. The steamer ordered him to keep his course and to say nothing about the affair under penalty of being also burned. The steamer had not the appearance of being a merchant man or man of war. She had 150 or 200 men on board, apparently English.

The Salaries of the Superior Court Judges.

Correspondence of the News.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Jan. 23, 1879. I have read in your issue of the 19th, Senator "Graham's Bill" regulating salaries, and think it fair, except Sec. 7, regulating the salaries of Judges of Superior Courts. That, I think, is decidedly too low, when we take into consideration the travelling expenses and hotel bills they have to pay. By the present system of rotation they are put to more expense in travelling than heretofore. There, too, we want our ablest and purest men on the Bench, and with few exceptions the lawyers of the State are not rich men and usually time. have large families to support. To ride their two annual circuits will cost them nearly if not quite $800 to $1000, which will do for young men just starting out, but for experienced, able men, who have spent years in their profession and who by their ability and integrity have built up a reputation and character that capacity is a specific or a prohibitory act to prevent the sale of liquor within two that cannot be computed by dollars and cnets, it is too low. Besides, it is disproportionate to other salaries demanding equal ability and talent. They are allowed no "fees." They are charged transient rates at all the hotels where they hold their Courts and have to pay first class fare on all railroads, and where there are no railroads the cost of travelling is much higher, and by looking at the railroad map of our State you will readily see that by far the larger number of the Courthouses of the State are not accessible by rail. Then another consideration; the commercial value of the men who should be selected for our Judges. What Lawyer in North Carolina, whose ability and experience fit him to adorn and honor our Judiciary who does not enjoy a practice worth, to him over $1,200 to $1,500? When you find one who does not earn more than that, you will find one who is not fit to occupy the place. Then, as a citizen and tax-payer, and as one believing in justice to all, I do not think it right to put the pay of such an important office so low that our ablest and best men if they do not happen to be wealthy cannot accept it because financially they cannot afford it, and while I am in entire sympathy with the News in its demand for Retrenchment, still I cannot approve the extreme to which Senator Graham's bill in this section goes. I hope the Legislature will take the matter under consideration and not allow a popular clamor for Retrenchment and Reform to induce it to lose sight of the value of experience and talent, such as the people demand for those who may be called to adorn the Bench of our State. If you want a cheap article you pay a Good Cheer for the "Yews." Correspondence of the News.

THOMASVILLE, N. C., Jan. 22, 1879. Your loss of the Public Printing, I hope, will not hurt you much, though I think as you were the first to bid for it at a price that saved the State a large amount and there was no other bid under yours, you ought to have had it again. I think you have done noble work in defence of the Democratic party and for retrenchment in expenses of the government, and I am one who believes that faithful service should at all times be duly rewarded. I am truly glad that there was no contest in the Senatorial election of Tuesday, and that Gov. Vance will now fill a seat in the United States Senate that ought to have been filled by him six years ago. Your correspondent, Reform, in your issue of yesterday, gives some astounding figures in regard to affairs about the capitol, which I hope the Legislature will look into and remedy, if possible, very soon.

Our esteemed correspondent is assured that the NEWs is not in the least that is glory enough for one day. Ep. NEWS.]

The Orange Trees Sate.

It is now ascertained beyond peradventure that the severe cold of the past month and the snow, which even went as far as south as below Jackson ville, have wrought no serious damage to the orange groves of our sister State. The cold spell which destroyed the orange trees in 1835 was experienced in the early spring, after a period of soft, open weather, which had caused the ssp to start up from the roots and the branches to begin to put on a new growth. Since that date the weather has been as cold repeatedly in the dead winter, when the sap was down, wi hout inflicting the least injury.

A BABY IN A WELL. -At Roseville, a few days ago, the little son of a widow lady, a child of three or four years of age, while playing near a well, fell into it. His fall was observed and parties ran to his rescue. It was found that he was on the surface of the water, which was about twenty feet deep, clinging to something and apparently unhurt. The people cast about for means to save him, but found that the well rope was not strong enough to sustain the weight of a man, and it would be dangerous to the child, to say nothing of anything else, for any one to try to descend. While a messenger was hastening for a strong rope the well bucket was placed within the child's reach, and he was directed to get into it and hold on to the rope. The little follow, in an effort to do as he was told, put his feet on the edge of the bucket and clasped the rope with his hand; then those above him commenced to draw him up. It was a moment of intense suspense; scarcely a breath was drawn, as with exceeding care the rope was handled and the bucket gradually ascended with the brave child clinging to it courageously. If he lost his hold and fell he doubtless would perish, for it was almost too much to expect that he could fall twice into such a perilous place and escape. But gradually the bucket ascended, slowly and surely, and when at last the boy was where he could be reached and a strong hand grasped him, there was a grand shout of relief from all. And the gratificas tion was increased when it was subser quently found that he was not hurt a

Woman's Progress. - Lucy Stone

says that, although women have not secured the ballot, they have in her time vastly improved their condition. She remembers when a woman was thought competent to teach only the small children in the summer schools, when her pay was a dollar a week, and she was expected to board around. Now women are professors in colleges with good salaries. In 4 States they vote on all school matters. Teaching, sewing and keeping house were the only occupations regarded as suitable for women. Now the census records seventy-one occupations that are open to women. No woman was a public speaker out of the Quaker Church. Now all platforms are free to them. The lyceum offers to the woman lecturer the same open field that it does to a man. The pulpit and the bar are both occupied by woman. The woman physician did not exist. Now they have a successful practice in every large city and many of the smaller towns. There was not a college in the world thas admitted women. Now there are not only distinctively colleges for women, but a large number that welcome women to all their advantathat she earned; could not make will of anything she possessed; could not sue or be sued; could not carry on business; had no lawful right to her children, and could not even be their guardian; nor had she the right to her own person. Now, in most of the States, all this is changed or very much modified.

REFORM.

The Voice of the People and the Press.

Wilmington Star.

The Raleigh News has shown that the taxes are relatively higher now than they were under Radical rule, and that the $90 000 saved by abolishing annual sessions of the Legislature has disappeared, leaving taxation as high as ever. In South Carolina the Democrats have reduced the taxes nearly fifty per cent.

Wilm'ngton Star.

When the people could have easily given the public functionaries large salaries it was deemed improper and unsafe to do so. It was simply contrary to the best convictions and wishes of the tax-payers. In those days the total salaries paid the officials of the capitol amounted to not much more than $6,000. Now they aggregate over $25,000. Are the people any better served now than then? If necessary we could enter each D-partment and show that the men of that time. that the men of that time were every way equal to those of the present. Why then this large increase? It is one of the legacies of carpet-bag rule. They introduced the custom of paying large salaries.

The Moffett Law Can be Enforced.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) From a close observation of the workings of the "Moffett-register law," I am persuaded that no measure could make it more efficient than an amendment of the Constitution whereby the commissioners of the revenue shall be appointed by the First Auditor, and given supervisory care of this important branch of the revenue system. It will also secure a more faithful and effectual assessment of the personal property in the State. COUNTY JUDGE. January 21, 1879.

The Register System. The News has always been a favorite and especially now; though I have not the honor of knowing personally the editor. I like the clear ring of its aggressive Democracy and the courage with which expresses its opinions. But I take issue with you on "the register system" which was the subject of an editorial in last Sunday's NEWS. There are good reasons why the system should not be introduced in North Carolina.

The system is a delusion so far as revenue is concerned, as experience teaches in Virginia. It is a delusion because it cannot be enforced. The mode of collecting the tax is odious. It is obnoxious to all our habits and ideas. Like some of the Federal legislation enforcing the Internal Revenue laws, it makes espionage a virtue and the sneaking spy and informer a hero and patriot. Public opinion is against it in Virginia, and an indignant public seas timent among the honest, liberty loving people of North Carolina will make it nugatory here. In Virginia the revenue derived from it has decreased month by month, until it produces even less than the old liquor license

GOLDSBORO, Jan. 21st.

Facts are better than assertions, even vigorous assertions. Our corresp ndent is ready with the pen. We thank him for his complimentary allusion to the NEWS. But to the facts. The register system, without regard to the particular register used-be it Moffett's or Clark's or Tucker's, is productive of a valuable revenue to the State, without injury any body but topers and drinkers. What revenue the bell punch yields in Virginia, and what it is capable of yielding, the Auditor's report tells us:

The gross amount collected under the law for the year ending November 1, 1878, was $472,834.14. The amount allowed for rebates is 'set down at $99,887.14. In his special report the Auditor does not give the expenses of assessment and collection. In his general report, however, he set down all expenses including advertising, postage, traveling expenses of assessing and collecting, at $32,190.08. Add these last two items together and deduct from the gross income and we obtain $340,766.92 as the net income from the law. The report does not cover the operations of a full year, as the registers were not received in some of the counties tid the year was somewhat advanced. The Auditor recommends the repeal of the provision of law authorizing rebates. This, of itself, would increase the yield by $99,877.14. Certain changes whereby it is believed that the efficiency of the tax on consumption, is, in my judgment, a wise l.w. At first it met with strong opposition, especially from liquor dealers, who did not understand its principles or probably its operation and its effects. But I think the opposition has been greatly diminished as people begin to understand them better. A strong proof of this is found in the fact that, although the law has been in operation for more than a that when it was suggested to Mr. Tilyear, and in the meantime a long session of our Legislature has been held. no attempt has been made to repeal it. It is defective in some of its details, but when these shall be cured, it will yield a very large revenue.

The Superintendent of Instruction, Hon. W. A. Ruffin, writes in the same vein in a letter, dated, December 5th, as follows:

"As to public sentiment in regard to this system, it is, in my opinian, over- pher business will also testify to the whelmingly favorable, provided the fact that Mr. Tilden knew nothing law can be made thoroughly operative. As to the latter point there is a difference of opinion, many regarding the scheme as impracticable. Still, I think that further trial will be made of it, and I hope with success. The principle of taxing liquor at the point of consumption is undoubtedly the wisest and best, and will, in my judgment, become a permanent policy of this State. Should the law in this present form be found imperfect, it will continue to be amended until the object be accomplished."

Senator Withers, in a letter dated the 7th instant, makes the following emphatic statement:

1st. The Moffet law is, I presume, acceptable to the people, as the Legislature has made no attempt to repeal it. 2d. Many dealers who at first opposed it, now approve and sustain it, though others still oppose and resist it, failing to register the liquors sold.

3d. It has realized far more than any other system of taxation hitherto devised, though the receipts have not equaled the expectations of its friends. Now if the Virginia law can be amended in such a manner as not to hear too heavily upon liquor dealers, and the tax be brought down squarely upon those who drink at retail establishments, thus covering thousands of non-residents, and almost the entire population who pay no other tax, it would prove a valuable source of revenue to the State. Why not?

Superintendent of Public Instruction,

In the backwoods State of Kentucky the Superintendent of Public Instruction is considered quite as important an as he was the only legislator capable of official as the Governor of the State. giving his associates something useful A little reflection will demonstrate why it is so. The Governor has to deal with citizens. The Superintendent of Public Instruction has control of the the session's length. Both houses vomachinery which is fashioning and di- ted down resolutions looking to an earrecting the brains of citizens that are keep on wasting the people's money in to be. A man who has such directive | waiting for something to turn up.

power must be superior in intelligence, executive ability, business qualifications, public spirit, energy and patence to most men.

The reasoning is none the less solid because it comes from the erratic Courier-Journal. A superannuated preacher is a candidate for that office in Kentucky and the Journal frankly teils him that "he is no man to undertake such responsibilities." The Journal sensibly prefers to see some new timber; timber that will sprout and leaf, and bring forth fruit in widely extended thoroughness in the district schools: a deeper public interest in the welfare of those schools, and the best utilization, in fact, of the school fund.

They have found out in Kentucky what we have bitterly experienced in North Carolina: that good schools and good teachers will not come of themselves. There must be competent local school supervision. There must be a prompt cessation of the practice of giving certificates to utterly incompetent teachers. There must be an abandonment of the shabby theory that city schools should have the highest teaching talent, while anything calling itself a teacher will do for the rural districts. It must be understood that school offices are to be kept out of politics; that school officers of all kinds must be efficient and regular in the inspection and visitation of the schools:

The Superintendent of Public Instruction is the originating and directive force of the educational system of the State. He is not a compiler of dry statistics. He is superintentor-a word of the same significance as the Greek episkopos-a watcher, an overseer, a guardian, a scout. The very word denotes responsibility, and is used in the classics frequently in the sense of "visiting," "going to see." Personal interest; watchful care; activity are implied. The man who can superintend a ditching machine, or a thresher, or cotton planting, can not necessarily be a success in the realm of psycho-dynamics."

It was reasoned that it was a common custom to pay thieves a reward for the restoration of property to its rightful owner, and this was a case of that kind. Mr. Weed started South to negotiate, but at Baltimore received a dispatch in forming him that nothing could be done for the want of money. Upon returning to New York he ascertained den that some money would be necessary to secure his rights, he flatly re-

Last Week's Cotton Figures,

cient Republicans have expressed their approval to put it through without delay. Leading members of the House, of both political parties have been consulted, and have cheerfully agreed to champion the bill. A prominent member of Congress remarked yesterday that "Jones' bill is the most popular one that has been before

Congress since the silver bill passed.'

The New York Financial and Commercial Chronicle of Saturday last reports the receipts of the seven days ending Friday night, 17th instant, at 113,613 bales, against 153,727 bales for the corresponding week of last yearshowing a lost of 40,114 bales on the week. Total receipts from 1st September to last Friday, 2.953,996 bales against 2,794,446—showing a net increase of 159,499 bales. The interior port receipts for these seven days were 38,784 bales against 59,686 for the corresponding week or year. The shipments were 59,195, against 61,197 last year. The stocks on Friday night last tooted up 233,236, against 237, 380 last year.

The Chronicle's visible supply table showed last Friday 2,272,302 bales of cotton in sight, against 2,517,749 at same date last year; 2,826,862 the year before, and 12,954,480 in 1876. These figures show a decrease of 245,487 bales, as compared with the supply in 1878 at that date; a decrease of 554,560 as compared with the supply of 1877 at bales as compared with the visible supply of 1876 at that date. Cotton was quoted in the Liverpool market last Friday at 53 for middling upland. A year ago at that date the quotation was 63; in 1877 it was6 6 13 16, and in 1876 it was 63.

It is evident from the foregoing figures that the statistical attitude of cotton at this time is strong, and, in a normal condition of the markets, an advance would be inevitable. But there is no strength in any market. The English cotton trade is shaky manifest that the readjust ment, if one be pending, will require a considerable number of years to mature—in the course of which the stocks of raw cotton may gain heavily on the supplies of manufactured goods.

The New York market, during the week ending Friday last, gained a 16th and closed at 9 5-16. The New York market, however, has little or no inde pendent influence on the general cotton market. It is a simple reflex of Liverpool, while the Liverpool market is now field in the grip of a great finan-cial crisis, and in the toils of innumerable strikes and labor complications, as well as under the pressure of a genseral decline in the great Bitish cotton trade. That trade, it is generally believed, has now passed its zenith, and is destined to sink in proportions gradually from year to year. Liverpool may continue for many years yet the arbiter of cotton prices; but a change is coming.

The crop movements of the last two months would seem to indicate a smaller out-turn than has hitherto been counted upon. The income of the crop, however, has doubtless been hindered by the bad weather and consequent bad roads, as well as the low prices. Planters naturally are not hankering after sales at eight cents and a frac-

Sent to Liberia Last Year by the American Colonization Society.

Washington Post.

The sixty-second anniversary meeting of the American Colonization society was held at the Metropolitan M. E. Church last evening. Hon. J. H. B. Latrobe, of Baltimore, presided. Rev. Dr. Naylor delivered the opening prayer. The secretary read his annual report, showing that 15,000 negroes were sent to Liberia during 1878. There was $16,00 in the treasury on January 1st of last year, all of which was expended except $300. Bishop Howe, of Reading, delivered an address, followed by Gen. Armstrong, of the Hampton university, of Virginia. Judge Warren, of Boston, introduced a resolution requesting Congress to appropriate $25,000 for purposes of exploration into the interior of Africa, under the supervision of the Navy department. SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become duil; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

A BRIEF HISTORY:

The following is from the Raleigh News and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:

"Years ago as old Indian left a receipt for curing Scroiuia with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person hives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the Scroidia. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs urawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the child. Her child now lives well an hearly. More than this: Only a few months since a South Caroliman, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scroulous affection on the heel, he had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to kittell Springs. Nothing die him any good. At Kitt.ell's they tola him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's fishe cured that South Carolinian ner receipt was worth money. And the south Carolinian sent ner word if she cured him he would give her five handred dottars. His Excellency Gov. Vance yesterday issued a pardon to Louis Wei!, the only Hebrew in the Penitentiary. He was convicted of manslaughter at Spring Term, 1877, of Union county Superior Court, and was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment. The petition for pardon was signed by Judge McKoy, Solicitor Pemberton, and a large number of citizens of Union county, and of Wilmington. The case was one of manslaughter, not aggravated. On the paper in the case appears the following endorsement by His Excellency the Governor: "I take pleasure in saying that I sign the pardon in part recognition of the good and law-abiding character of our Jewish citizens, this being the first serious case ever brought to my notice on the part of any of that people.

Military Gossip.

A company has just been organized at Beaufort, and the coast towns now all have companies. Special mention is due two newly formed companies the Durham Light Infantry, Capt. J. F. Freeland, and the Kinston R fles. Capt. R. H. Lewis, commanding. The personnel of these two commands is unsurpassed, and for discipline and progress in drill they are marked. Both take a high rank among the commands in the State, and are a credit to their officers and men alike.

Good Cheer for Consumptives.

There is a form of Consumption which was better indicated by the old fashioned name of "decline." It is the dreaded scourge of some parts of the Scuthern States, claiming more victims every year than are swept away by the most terrible visitations of the yellow fever. The malady arises from the inability of the patients system, to take up and assimilate the nourishing ingredients of the food that is eaten. Some years ago the medical profession, with remarkable unanimity, agreed that Cod Liver Oil contained the most concentrated an i easily absorbed elements of nutrition. If the nauseous taste and smell of the oil could be avoided it would unquestionably be the most sovereign remedy that Original Restaurateur,
